Other IAICDV Scholarship Fund Descriptions

Scholarship funds are given on a rotating basis.

Doc Abernethy Memorial Scholarship Fund

In the ice cream industry, the name "Doc Abernethy" is synonymous with creativity and vision. During his thirty-six years in the business, Doc introduced a string of novelty innovations, from the Bomb Pop introduced in 1958, to the Teenage Mutant Ninja Turtle. By the 1980s, the country was ready for a good fruit and juice bar, so Doc created it - launching the Dole Frozen Dessert Business. Next came Pink Panther, Ghostbusters and the hugely successful Teenage Mutant Ninja Turtles program. His kindness, charisma, and creativity, will be greatly missed but not forgotten. In 1991 Doc was named an Honorary Director of the IAICDV and awarded the prestigious Mickey Schwartz Award. Doc was inducted into the IAICDV Hall of Fame for his accomplishments in 2009.

As a charter member of the IAICDV, Doc was a key figure in the Association's development, and a devoted supporter of the Association. In 1990, a scholarship was established in his name, supported by an initial grant from Doc's colleagues at Merritt Foods. In 1991, Doc was named an honorary director of the Association. His kindness, charisma and creativity will be greatly missed, but not forgotten.

Earl & Cheryl Barish Scholarship Fund

Earl Barish has always had an innate love for the ice cream industry and the people involved in it. In 1989, Earl was on the cover of "Influence Magazine" as one of Canada's fifty most influential business people. In 1986, there was a chapter devoted to Earl as the "King of the Vendors" in Allan Gould's book, The New Entrepreneurs: Canadian Success Stories.

Both Earl and his wife Cheryl have worked hard together in the ice cream industry and the IAICDV because of their belief in the entrepreneurial spirit, and their belief and confidence in the association, and its goals, purpose and mission. In 1994, marking the 25th anniversary of the IAICDV, they both felt it would be an opportune time to show their hope and faith in the future of the industry and in the association by establishing a scholarship fund. Earl was inducted into the IAICDV Hall of Fame for his accomplishments in 2014.

Manny Ginsberg Scholarship Fund

As a teenager, Manny Ginsberg began selling ice cream from a shoulder box on Revere Beach. In the summer of 1947, he built his first ice cream vending pick-up truck. Over the years, Manny proceeded to build a very large and diversified mobile street vending and wholesale distribution company, now known as New England Frozen Foods, Inc. based in Southborough, Massachusetts. Manny pioneered the concept of the inside sales ice cream truck as we know it today.

Through his vision and determination, he created opportunities for many people to be in business for themselves. Manny has been involved in numerous civic, charitable and industry-related causes pertaining to his belief in the American Dream. Manny was inducted into the IAICDV Hall of Fame for his accomplishments in 2009.

Jim Roberts Scholarship Fund

Jim Roberts joined us out of his sense of service in the early 1980's and his wisdom and judgment have been instrumental in effectively solving business and individual problems for many vendors across the United States. He has been a great advocate of our business outside of this Association and his expertise is greatly appreciated. Jim Roberts as IAICDV legal counsel is an active member of the IAICDV Executive Committee. In addition, Jim was named an Honorary Director and was inducted into the IAICDV Hall of Fame for his accomplishments in 2011.
